

Watercolors with Mark Waitkus

Mark Waitkus' expressive brush strokes and use of color bring his watercolors to life, providing a lightness and feeling of nostalgia. Nationally recognized for his work portraying sports scenes and arenas, Mark is also known for his landscapes and urban scenery.

In this popular hands-on workshop, Mark will teach the techniques of watercolor painting for students to create their own scenic landscape painting. The workshop will consist of three classes to cover the principals of layout, color, brushwork, and finish for the beginner and the experienced painter alike. Visit Mark at www.markwaitkus.com to see more of his work.

Dates: Tuesdays, March 15, 22 & 29

Time: 6:30 – 8:00 pm

Location: Upstairs Meeting Rm., Beaman Memorial Library,
8 Newton St., West Boylston

Cost: $36; a list of recommended supplies and equipment for students to purchase will be provided prior to the first class.

This class is limited to adults and teens ages 16 and up. Pre-registration is required. Email arts@wbaf.org to register, or call Mark Baldi at 508-835-6489.

Sponsored by West Boylston Arts Foundation, Inc., proceeds to support of school arts education.